The twelfth edition of the Wohlhauser Edition presents a fascinating selection of new compositions by René Wohlhauser.

The centrepiece is the eponymous work In mäandrierendem Rausch, a musical metaphor for the struggle from darkness to light, premiered by the Ensemble Polysono. Alongside it, contrasting worlds of sound unfold: Dunkle Stimmen explores the tension between light and shadow, while the Piano Trios No. 3 and No. 4 combine rhythmic energy and structural transformation. The two Quartets for Flute, Clarinet, Violin and Cello open new horizons, from microtonal explorations to dialectical structures in which categories of perception are redefined. Finally, the Duo for Violin and Piano No. 3 "Gespiegelte Klanglichkeit" radically turns sound, time and form upside down.

This edition brings together works that oscillate between archaic depth and fine tonal microscopy. Wohlhauser's music is challenging, but at the same time creates new spaces for listening - between intoxication and reflection, fragment and unity, intuition and compositional logic.
